Notes:

1. Subject to the revocation or other termination under any relevant provision of the Goods Vehicles (Licensing of Operators) Act 1995, this licence will continue in force indefinitely. If the fee payable to continue in force the licence at the expiry of each five year cycle is not paid, the licence will automatically terminate on that date. The onus is on the operator to ensure their licence is continued before the expiry date as indicated on their licence document and/or vehicle disc(s). Failure to do so will result in the licence being terminated. If you have received no contact two weeks before the expiry date, please urgently contact the central licensing office.
2. The "holder" of a licence is the person to whom the licence was issued. An operating centre is defined as the base or centre at which the licence holder's vehicles (and trailers) are normally kept.
3. This licence authorises the use of a maximum number of vehicles and trailers by the licence holder. Vehicles currently in the holder's possession, and for which vehicle discs have been issued, are recorded as "specified" vehicles on the licence. The difference between the number of vehicles in possession and the total authorisation is known as the "margin".
4. Within the margin, the licence holder may operate vehicles additional to those currently specified on the licence (but without exceeding the total authorisation) for a maximum of one month beginning with the day on which the vehicle was first in the licence holder's lawful possession. If the period of use of any vehicle is one month or less there is no requirement to notify the central licensing office. To use a vehicle for more than one month, and remain within the law, the licence holder must inform the central licensing office before that month is up. The vehicle then becomes specified on the licence and the margin is reduced accordingly.
5. If the vehicles specified on the licence are equal to the total authorisation, the holder cannot operate any additional vehicles, temporarily or otherwise, without having first applied for, and been granted, authority to do so.
6. The licence holder cannot change or add an operating centre without having first applied for, and been granted, authority to do so. Failure to obtain authority to use a place as an operating centre may result in a fine on summary conviction and disciplinary action being taken against the licence.
7. In addition to the general conditions detailed elsewhere in this document, legislation requires licence holders to inform the traffic commissioner of any change of correspondence address, within 28 days. Failure to inform the traffic commissioner of a change of correspondence address may result in the revocation of the licence.
8. A licence holder who does not fulfil an undertaking or condition recorded on his licence may be committing an offence and will be liable to disciplinary action by the traffic commissioner. A licence may be revoked, suspended or curtailed.
9. The "date of review" on the front page of this document is a reference to traffic commissioners' powers to undertake a periodic review of the operating centres specified on licences. The power to review is available to traffic commissioners every five years and is most likely to occur if complaints are received about the operating centre, which indicate that it may be environmentally unsuitable for use as such. If a review is to be conducted, the traffic commissioner will serve notice on the licence holder within two months of the date of review.
